Getting into Action.

The citizens of Seward county are now beginning to do things for the betterment of the roads over the county. This past week has seen considerable activity on the part of the farmers of the county, and we believe that all of the township boards will soon be organized and road overseers appointed. At nearly every gathering of farmers the past week, they have talked over the good roads proposition, and every one we have seen seems willing to do all he can to help the good work along. The Democrat is glad to do all it can to promote this worthy cause. If you have some new scheme to suggest for good roads, write it down, and send it to the Democrat. It is probable that several new plans for working the roads will be tried out this spring. Experiments along this line will certainly be of benefit to the county. Boost for good roads all the time, and remember that we need your help to get the city scales for Liberal.

Mrs. Vickers and Daughter Entertained.

Mrs. W. H. Vickers and daughter Miss Irene very beautifully entertained on Tuesday from 3 to 6 p. m. in honor of their house guests Mrs. Margaret K. White of Oskaloosa, Iowa.

'Twas evident during the entire evening that added years bring added joys. Amusements were out of order with so much harmony.

A dainty two course luncheon was served at five. After sitting for pictures and a beautiful prayer by Mrs. Bucklin, the ladies reluctantly said their farewells to Mrs. White the guest of honor, who started for her home Wednesday a. m. She is one of those rare characters whom to meet is to love. Quaker instinct in the girl has refined into beautiful womanhood of after years.

It was a very interesting fact to Mrs. Vaughn and Mrs. White when each learned that the other had been educated in the same Quaker boarding school for girls in Richmond Indiana. Those invited were: Mesdames, Ault, Vaughn, Sinclair, Harris, Neff and Bucklin.

Monthly Report of Bluebell District No. 14

Our report this month is not according to our liking, but the tardiness and absences were unavoidable. The fourth month opened Jan. 2nd, when parents were afraid to let their children come. Consequently we had an attendance of only 3 pupils. The teacher feared not to go and open up the school house and have a fire lest some might come. The result was that one ear and also the side of her face were frozen. But such a little thing as that never receives much notice from the progressive school of Bluebell.

La Grippe has found many victims in our ranks and we have all had to work against many obstacles. But, by doing written work at home when not able to attend, we have reached the desired goal, namely to keep up in all the branches to the pages designated by the course of study. Ours is a thoroughly graded school, now boasting 30 faithful pupils, and we have good reason to be proud.

As our examination questions did not arrive Thursday we took Friday afternoon for making a map of the United States in our school yard. The 6th and 8th grades drew the outline in the ground and the smaller pupils carried rocks from Mr. Hottinger's field and filled the trench. The Primer pupils and their teacher built mountains by driving stakes into the ground and packing clay around them. For trees we had branches of sage brush stuck into the clay before the mounds were covered with sand. Some of the boys dug the gulf of Mexico while others made the Great Lakes, the Erie canal and the larger rivers. It was a great treat to the pupils and a fine observation lesson, but the teacher went home rather tired in the evening. We were glad to welcome Elva and Alva McCollough back to our country school. They seem to enjoy the games and the long morning and evening walks. They had been going to school in Liberal since October 23rd.

We have only 2 who are perfect in attendance and punctuality—Lora and Elton Hottinger. Others not tardy are: Claud, Harry, Bertie and Wilda Davis, Elijah Wright, Burton Neff, Alva and Elva McCullough and Etta Hammontree. We have a new organ for our school and we are going to have a pie social and box supper February 14th to raise our last payment on it. Every lady is requested to bring a box or a pie. We are prepared to render a program in honor of Washington and Lincoln before the sale of the pies. Gentlemen are requested to bring their purses.
